Message from the President of the Congress

Dear Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to the 26th Congress of the International College for Maxillo-Facial-Surgery (ICMFS), in Las Palmas de Gran Canaria, Spain, from February 1st - 4th, 2012.

The Congress will offer a rich and a high quality scientific program including keynote addresses by world experts, master classes, panel discussions, oral presentations and poster sessions, professional expo as well as sponsored symposia. It will be held in the capital of the beautiful Canary Islands, the city of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria, said to have the "best climate in the world". The city blends perfectly modern amenities with a rich cultural and architectural heritage -- especially seen in the old Spanish city center - and the pleasures of a subtropical sea-side resort. Most of the congress hotels, meeting places and city high-lights will be within walking distance of each other, making this rich event a very relax one and an excellent opportunity to meet with old friends and to make new ones.

The specialty of Maxillo-Facial Surgery is a dynamic and evolving one and as such, our initiatives need to be looking forward. The ICMFS efforts for the future will focus on expanding the fellowships in implantology, surgical head and neck oncology, craniofacial surgery, cleft surgery, salivary glands surgery, traumatology, medical and phasmacotherapy of cancer, radiotherapy and cosmetic facial surgery, as well as nursing, thus enhancing the quality and quantity of education offered through ICMFS. All these subjects will be addressed at the congress. The results of recent scientific research will be merged into keynote lectures and announced by invited speakers.

I would like to invite all maxillofacial surgeons sharing the same field of work, as well as all colleagues from related disciplines to join us in the magical Las Palmas of Canary Islands, where the temperature in January is about 25°C, and to participate with their lectures, posters and attendance. Please visit the congress web site www.icmfs.eu for submission of abstracts and registration. We hope that you will come and leave Gran Canaria enriched by new knowledge and friendships, as well as with a wish to visit us again.

Sincerely,

Milan R. Knezevic,

President of the Congress
